

Interacting with Persons with Psychiatric Or Mental Health Disorders

- Do not assume the person is more likely to be violent or dangerous than those without psychiatric disabilities; this is a myth.

- Do not assume that the person is not capable of working in a wide range of jobs that require a variety of skills and levels of intelligence.
- Do not assume that the person is not intelligent

