

Patriots,

As you read through some of the lesson plans submitted, you will see that it is very important that you download drawings, photos, and sometimes activities that were taken from websites.

The reference sites submitted by participants have been listed so that you can find any “missing pieces” of lessons that you might need in order to use the lesson in your classrooms.

Most lessons submitted were primarily original as was requested and will not be difficult to reproduce for your students.

Mona