Instructional Materials Adoption Fair

2026-2027

Course Description

The Instructional Materials Adoption Fair will serve as a collaborative and engaging event where educators, administrators, and district directors come together to explore and evaluate curriculum resources under consideration for adoption. The fair provides an opportunity to review textbooks, digital tools, supplemental materials, and other instructional resources aligned with state standards and district goals.

Participants can interact with representatives from publishing companies, attend presentations or demonstrations, and provide feedback on the materials. The fair is an essential step in the instructional materials adoption process, promoting informed decision-making and community involvement.

Key Goals

- Provide Access to a Variety of Resources
Showcase multiple curriculum options from approved vendors, allowing stakeholders to compare and evaluate materials side-by-side.
- Support Informed Decision-Making
Offer demonstrations, sample lessons, and hands-on exploration so participants can assess alignment with standards, instructional goals, and student engagement.
- Foster Collaboration and Dialogue
Create a space for open discussion among educators, curriculum leaders, and community members about instructional priorities and resource needs.
